Alberta Snapshot

Stantec, a global design and engineering firm headquartered in Edmonton, Alberta, has over 250 offices throughout the United States, including three in South Carolina. With presences in Charleston, Columbia, and Greenville for over 25 years, Stantec is contributing to the state's economy through job creation and sustainable infrastructure development.

The team in the Columbia office has worked in the city for decades, providing services for major clients like the South Carolina Department of Transportation, the University of South Carolina, the Richland County School District, and the City of Columbia.

To address traffic safety issues in the heart of campus, Stantec is leading the first construction manager-at-risk roadway project to be executed by Clemson University through the Office of State Engineer. Following project completion, Perimeter Road will be a four-lane facility for its entire 2.3-mile length, bringing the university and surrounding community additional traffic capacity, cyclist, and pedestrian safety.
