Alberta Snapshot

Rosenbauer is the world's largest manufacturer of fire trucks and equipment with eleven manufacturing locations worldwide, three of which are located in North America.

The majority of Rosenbauer America's vehicle production takes place at the Lyons Plant in South Dakota, which employs 320 people. The Lyons production facility has an output capacity of around 700 vehicles per year and can produce practically the entire firefighting range including pumpers, rescues, aerials, and special trucks such as industrial and wildland vehicles for U.S. and Canadian markets.

Rosenbauer is a registered manufacturer with Transport Canada, and hundreds of communities across Alberta use Rosenbauer to meet our firefighting and emergency vehicle needs.
